

Multinational Presence in Costa Rica

Green energy, chips, and strategic business are only some of the industries that now call Costa Rica home.

Intel

<http://www.globalpost.com/dispatch/costa-rica/090206/intel-at-home-costa-rica-%E2%80%94-now>

http://psdblog.worldbank.org/psdblog/2006/08/costa_rica_wins.html

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FMZaooZ-zb>

<http://www.fdi.net/search/srchresult.cfm> (search for costa rica)

http://www.american.edu/initeb/zs2946a/case_study1.htm

<http://insidecostarica.com/dailynews/2008/november/19/nac07.htm>

<http://www.managementtoday.co.uk/search/article/627804/intel-costa-rica-success-story/>
Procter and Gamble

<http://www.centralamericatoday.com/economy2.html>

<http://www.costaricapages.com/blog/business/procter-gamble-investment/636>

Ormat

<http://seekingalpha.com/article/121506-ormat-moving-full-steam-ahead-with-geothermal-power-generation>

http://www.energy-business-review.com/news/ormat_technologies_commissions_two_oreg_2_project_power_plants_170209

http://www.energy-business-review.com/news/ormat_technologies_wins_contract_for_costa_rican_geothermal_plant_270109

Mariah Power

<http://www.lasvegassun.com/news/2009/feb/06/reno-wind-turbine-maker-expands-costa-rica/>